CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — HOUSE

8573

To allow it to become marginal and then non-productive would be inviting famine at some future date. The worst and rapid soil of many countries has caused food to be scarce in them and hunger and malnutrition to be high.

Even with the technical aid the Soil Conservation Service has been giving, it is difficult to obtain the cooperation of all land owners. Without this aid soil districts would probably lose much of their usefulness. We believe there are many other departments of Government, which could stand a reduction far better than the Conservation Service.

For a number of years we have believed that the most useful money expended by the Federal Government in water control is at its source. If through the construction of terraces, structures, ponds, timber and grass strips on the lands where the water originates its flow can be slowed, giving it a chance to seep into the ground, then the erosion will be checked and the heavy silt of our main streams will decrease. Such a plan can also raise the level of our water table and lessen the danger of water shortage.

Dams and levees have been constructed to control floods, but slowing the runoff at the source would be much more effective in the long run. The Soil Conservation Service provides the most important aid, which can be given by the Government to the landowner, and should not be curtailed when so much remains to be done and there is such unnecessary waste in other departments of Government.

IMMIGRATION HEARINGS

Mr. FEIGHAN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute, and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. FEIGHAN. Mr. Speaker, I take this opportunity to announce that hearings on pending immigration legislation by the Subcommittee on Immigration and Nationality have been delayed necessarily because of consideration of the voting rights bill by the full Judiciary Committee.

Our hearings opened on March 3, 1965, at which time Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach appeared before the subcommittee. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz, and representatives of the U.S. Public Health Service appeared at subsequent hearings. We have taken testimony from interested Members of Congress and the record of hearings is still open for inclusion of statements from other interested Members.

It has been necessary to cancel scheduled hearings on three occasions since completing testimony from the Public Health Service on March 31, 1965.

I wish to assure representatives of nongovernmental organizations and the interested public who have made written requests to appear, that we expect to take up this phase of our hearings during the week beginning May 10. Full Judiciary Committee meetings preclude setting an earlier date. Notice will be provided when the day and time are set for their appearance.

point in the Record and to include extraneous matter.)

Mr. FEIGHAN. Mr. Speaker, pursuant to the provisions of the act of July 14, 1960—Public Law 86-648—the so-called fair share law, enabling the United States to participate in the resettlement of certain refugees, the Attorney General is directed to forward to the Congress every 6 months a report on administrative operations authorized under that law.

In view of the continuing interest of my colleagues in the House and for their information, I wish to include in the Record at this point the ninth semi-annual report of the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization covering the operations from July 1 to December 31, 1964, together with a summary covering the preceding eight semiannual periods.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE

Washington, D.C., February 4, 1965.

HON. JOHN W. MCCORMACK,
Speaker, House of Representatives,
Washington, D.C.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Refugee operations under the act of July 14, 1960, as amended by the act of June 28, 1962, were continued during the 6-month period ending December 31, 1964. This was the ninth 6-month period of operations under the act. During the preceding 6-month period, according to advisory report furnished by the Secretary of State, 17,551 refugee-escapees, as specified in section 1 of the act, availed themselves of resettlement opportunities offered by "nations other than the United States." Accordingly, the number authorized by statutory "fair share" during the period covered by this report was 4,413. During the period, 1,904 registrations were received from refugees in the seven countries in which refugee operations were carried out under the act.

In addition to the 1,904 refugees who registered under the act during the 6-month period, there were 906 registrations pending at the beginning of the period, making a total of 2,810 refugee applicants available for consideration. Of these, 1,465 were found qualified for parole and 346 were rejected or otherwise closed, leaving 897 registrations pending at the end of the period.

The following reflects the activity in each of the countries in which the refugee operations were conducted during the period:

Of the refugees approved for parole to date, 865 have been approved under section 2(b) of the act, which provides for a numerical limitation of 500 "as soon as possible" cases.

A total of 18,038 refugees, in whom cases assurances of housing and employment have been received, have been referred to the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration for transportation to the United States. Of these, 16,322 had arrived in the United States as of December 31, 1964, as follows:

Country of flight	During last 6 periods	During 6th period	Total
